Art. 3 - General Requirements

Eligible candidates must have a PhD degree in Anthropology or equivalent title granted in Italy or abroad or a CV demonstrating extensive research record such as faculty positions in Universities, Research bodies,

Applied research Institutions, private or public, abroad or, for non faculty positions, in Italy, excluding those listed in art. 22 comma 1, of the Law 240/2010.

Non-Italian citizens from EU countries must hold a qualification recognized as equivalent on the basis of international agreements, or as described by art. 332 of the “Testo Unico” dated 31/8/1993, n. 1592. This equivalence should be demonstrated by suitable certification issued by the competent authorities.

Alternatively qualifications obtained abroad that are not considered equivalent, according to the current legislation, will be evaluated by the selection committee only for the aims of this selection and should be translated, legally certified and have a declaration of value issued by the appropriate Italian diplomatic

Authorities and attached to the application, also as photocopies.

It is also required the knowledge of English language

Candidates should have these requisites before the deadline for the submission of the applications.

Art.4 –Applications and deadlines

Applications, on plain paper, should follow the structure of Appendix A, be signed by the applicant, and sent by email to: bandiselezione-dba@uniroma1.it within the deadline of 30 days starting from the day after publication of this notice following the guidelines given in this document.

Candidates must indicate an e-mail address to which all communications, including the invitation to the interview, will be sent. Any change of the address should be immediately communicated to the Department Of Environmental Biology

If the deadline is on a holyday, it is automatically moved to the next working day.

The Administration will not take any responsibility if the candidate is not reachable or for late or lost mail due to changes of email address, late or wrong communication of the email address by the candidate.

Applicants must state, under their own responsibility and liability, the following facts. Failure to do so will result in exclusion from the selection procedure.

- surname and name;
- date and place of birth;
- residence;
- citizenship;
- possession of political rights;
- a declaration that the candidate does not have any criminal record nor is currently under any criminal prosecution; should there be a criminal record or prosecution, the candidate must report it, together with the date of any sentence passed and the legal authority that passed it;
- Master degree with grades, as well as the date and the University that granted the degree;
- equivalence of the titles, if obtained abroad /declaration of value of qualifications if not considered equivalent;

It is possible to include in the application, in place of the original qualifications listed above, an authenticated copy of the same or a copy declared to be in conformity with the original by a declaration, in substitution of a notarized act, according to art. 46 and 47 of D.P.R. n. 445, dated 28/12/2000.

With reference to the publications considered relevant for this selection procedure, candidates must include a declaration, in substitution of a notarized act, certifying that the copies are in conformity with the originals, according to art.47 del D.P.R. n. 445, dated 28/12/2000.

Titles/qualifications written in a foreign language must be presented with a translation in Italian that must be certified by the competent Authority as being in conformity with the original text. No such certified translation is required for titles/qualifications written in English.

Foreign citizens resident in Italy can self-certify the above as far as situations, facts, or personal qualities that can be certified or supported by public officials or private Italian citizens are concerned (art. 3 DPR 445/2000).

Foreign citizens who are not resident in Italy cannot use self-certification in any way .

Within 3 months from the conclusion of the selection procedure, the candidates must take action to collect the originals/copies of the qualifications and publications presented (at their own expenses). After this deadline, the Department of Environmental Biology, will not be responsible of storing these documents.

Art. 6 – Selection procedure

The Committee will decide how to assign the scores in percent; the scoring system adds up to 100/100, and will take into account, appropriately weighted:

- the Master degree grade;
- scientific publications;
- diplomas of specialization and certificates of attendance at post-graduate courses according to their relevance to the research to be carried out;
- other activities carried out under contract, study grants or posts within National or International
- Research Agencies; the dates and periods of service must be certified in detail as well as the activity conducted.
- Documented specific activities pertaining the dissemination of scientific culture.
- Interview

The results of the assessment of the qualifications will be made known to the candidates prior to the interview. They will be posted on the notice-board and on the website of the Department Of Environmental Biology

Art. 7 – Interview

The selection procedure includes an interview that will focus on the program indicated in art. 1 of this call and on

1. Candidate's knowledge on the paleoanthropological, paleoenvironmental and historical-cultural researches of Eritrea;
2. Research activities and scientific production on "science and society" particularly with regard to issues concerning teaching human evolution.
3. Verification on the candidate skills in project design, co-ordination of activities and teamwork
4. Verification of knowledge related to computer-mediated communication, edutainment techniques, web design, use of graphics programs and web building.
5. Skills and experience in museum and exhibits planning and organization, particularly in the field of science education.
6. English language test;

Notification of the interview will be given to individual candidates using the e-mail address provided in the application or by registered post at least 20 days before the interview, unless written withdrawal from the selection is given by candidates.

This notice is equivalent to notification in all respects regarding the candidates and therefore will not be given again in any other communication.

For the interview, candidates need to show a valid Identification document.

During the interview, the Committee will verify the ability of the candidate to deal with the subject of the project. The interview is public. At the end of each step of the selection process, the Committee will make the results public.

Art. 8 – Committee

The examining Committee will be nominated by the Director of the Department Of Environmental Biology, following the recommendations of the Council of the Department. It will consist of three members: a full Professor, who will act as President and two members selected from the "Sapienza" Professors or Researchers (also fixed terms) or Researchers from Research Institutes having an official agreement with the Sapienza University. One of these will act as the Secretary of the committee.

The decision of the committee is final.

Art. 9 – Procedure results

The Committee, in the first meeting, will establish the criteria to be used for the evaluation and scoring of the qualifications and of the interview, formally ratifying them in a report.

The final marks are obtained by summing the scores of the qualifications and of the interview. The ranking will list the final marks for each candidate in decreasing order.

The Director of the Department approves the results established by the Commission. The results will be publicized on the web sites of the Department Of Environmental Biology and of the University and notifies the candidates. If she or he will not accept the position or will resign, the position will be offered to the next ranked candidates.

Candidates who will not declare their acceptance of the contract or who will not start their activity within the established deadline will be disqualified. Requests of delaying the beginning of the contract will only be accepted when due to certified health problems, obligatory maternity leave or by proven force majeure.

Art. 10 - The Temporary Research Associate Contract – "Assegno di Ricerca"

The temporary research associate position – "assegno di ricerca" will take the form of a temporary contract drawn up under civil law. This temporary, fixed-term contract does not, in any way, represents a permanent contract of dependent work and does not give any right to permanent positions within the University.

According to articles 46 and 47 of D.P.R. n. 445 dated 28/12/2000, the winning candidate must produce, within 30 days of being notified of the granted "assegno di ricerca", a declaration on plain paper, stating:

- a) date and place of birth;
- b) citizenship;
- c) possession of political rights in his/her country;
- d) freedom from any criminal convictions or current criminal proceedings.

Regarding points b) and c), the declaration must indicate that the candidate had the requisites already at the date of the application deadline for the selection process.

The winning candidate will be required to make a substitutive declaration of a notarized act stating the authenticity of the qualifications presented. In the absence of this substitutive declaration of a notarized act, the winning candidate must present the originals or provide the necessary stamp duty to render the documents acceptable, according to Law n. 370, dated 23/8/1998.

The Administration reserves the right to verify the truth and authenticity of the produced declarations; in case of false declarations, the proceedings laid down in art. 75 and 76 of D.P.R. n. 445, dated 28/12/2000.

On the day of enrolment, the Director of the Department will communicate to the grantee the Scientist Principal Investigator.

The grantee must also comply with the requirements described in the University Regulations issued with D.R. n. 896 on 28/3/2011 for awarding temporary research associate positions – “assegni di ricerca”, a copy of which will be provided.

Art. 11 – Rights and duties

Grantees must carry out their research activity within the research programs approved by the Department to which they belong; their duties should be related to research and not be limited to technical support. Grantees can collaborate to research activities of students who are working on their Master thesis; can participate to seminars and practices for students and be part of exam committees as experts.

To perform their research activities, grantees can take advantage of the instrumentations of the Department where they work and of all the services available to researchers according to the current legislature and to the Department rules.

If explicitly authorized by the Scientific Principal Investigator to travel, the grantee will be reimbursed expenses according to the current legislature.

Grantees are required to provide the Department where they work with a written yearly report of their research activity, together with a written evaluation of their activities by the Scientific Principal Investigator.

The research activity can be partially performed in a different University of Research Institution in Italy or abroad, provided this is coherent with the program and objectives of the assigned research activities; the period abroad must be explicitly authorized by the Department in advance following a motivated request by the Scientific Principal Investigator.

Art.12 –Incompatibility

The temporary research associate position “assegno di ricerca” cannot be combined with other grants or fellowships intended for similar purposes, with the exception of those assigned by national or foreign institutes to integrate, during stages abroad, the research activity of the selected candidate. Grantees cannot enroll in Degree Courses, Master degrees, PhD or specialization schools with fellowships, in Italy or abroad, University post-graduate Masters.

The temporary research associate position “assegno di ricerca” can be granted to Public employees, if they are on unpaid leave during the period of the contract.

The temporary research associate position “assegno di ricerca” is personal. The selected candidates can conduct free-lance work, provided that written notice is given to the Department in advance and that the activity is recognized by the Department as compatible with the funded research activity; that there is no conflict of interest with the specific research carried out by the selected candidate for the University; that the University reputation is safeguarded at all times. The Responsible Scientist and the selected candidate must declare that they do not have a professional relationship.

Provided that the funded research activity is guaranteed, and in agreement with the Department, the grantees can take part in research and consultancy work for third parties on behalf of the Sapienza University according to art. 66 of D.P.R. 382/80, and can be entitled to related gains according to the regulations governing such work.

Grantees who want to work or continuing working in unpaid activities in voluntary associations or non-profit cooperatives or cultural Institutions can do so, provided that they comply with all their research duties.

The activity is suspended in cases of obligatory leave for maternity, parental leave and illness and it can be extended, according to the current legislation. Authorized leave periods shorter than 30 days in a year are not considered suspensions.

Art. 13 – Contract resolution

A procedure for resolution of the contract of a grantee is started when, after having started his activity, does not continue it regularly and without interruptions for the whole period without justified motivation, or who will be responsible of severe failures or defaults. The procedure is initiated following the request of the Scientific Principal Investigator and approved by the Department Council.

Causes for resolution of a contract are:

- Failure to start the activities or unjustified delay in starting the;
- Unjustified suspension of the activity for a period that jeopardizes the research program;
- Violation of the incompatibility rules as stated in art. 6 if repeated after a first warning
- Negative evaluation of the Department Council or of the Administrative and managerial body of the same Department.

Art. 14 - Making the selection procedure public

This selection procedure will be made public by posting it on the notice board of the Department Of Environmental Biology as well as on the Department website:

http://sweb01.dbv.uniroma1.it/arch_docs/bandi.php di concorso, and on the websites of the University:
